The Story Behind

Santa Ynez Valley Sauvignon Blanc

We have always been big fans of Santa Ynez Valley Sauvignon Blanc and would argue that some of the best Sauvignon Blanc grown in California comes from Santa Ynez. Most grapes for this wine are harvested from the hillsides of our Biodynamic certified Purisima Mountain Vineyard. The hillsides tend to stress the vines a bit more, and our wine is made from a vineyard that yields an average of 3 tons per acre, which is not much in the world of Sauvignon Blanc. Sauvignon Blanc on Purisima tends to ripen a bit slower than most of the SB in the region, but that added “hang-time” adds to the flavor and textural development of the finished wine, while the limestone soils insure great acidity.
